

Questions for the credit
to the discipline «Current Issues of Pulmonology» for the 6-th year students of the Medical Faculty for International Students on the 2025-2026 academic year

1. Differential diagnosis of acute dyspnea.
2. Acute respiratory failure (ARF): diagnosis and emergency care.
3. Differential diagnosis of slowly developing shortness of breath.
4. α -1-antitrypsin deficiency.
5. Secondary bronchial obstruction syndrome caused by tuberculosis, cancer, circulatory failure, pulmonary embolism, Mendelson's syndrome, aspergillosis, lesions of the central nervous system and others.
6. Diagnosis and treatment of bronchial obstruction syndrome.
7. Lung changes in infective endocarditis, sepsis.
8. Hypereosinophilic syndrome.
9. Changes in the lungs in pulmonary embolism (PE).
10. Pulmonary manifestations of tumors of various localization.
11. Pulmonary manifestations of amyloidosis.
12. Occupational lung diseases.
13. Drug damage of the lungs.
14. Lung lesions in diffuse connective tissue diseases.
15. The differential diagnosis and emergency care in hemoptysis and pulmonary hemorrhage.
16. Indications for lung transplantation.
17. The role of viruses in the acute respiratory distress syndrome development.
18. Toxic pulmonary edema.
19. Differential diagnosis of pulmonary edema.
20. Current approaches to diagnosis and treatment of acute respiratory distress syndrome.
21. Etiology and pathogenesis of pulmonary heart disease.
22. Septic shock.

Approved
at the meeting of the Department of Internal Medicine, Gastroenterology and Nutrition with training and advanced training courses
September 05, 2025, Protocol 2.

Associate-Professor

Y.Y. Pankratova