Note:

Missed lectures and practical classes must be made up within a month from the date of absence.

Lecturers missed without a valid reason are made up by preparing a paper on the topic of the missed lecture and attending a lecture interview. The paper must be handwritten and submitted to the instructor during the lecture.

In one day, it is possible to make up only one lecture or one practical lesson missed for an unjustified reason.

Being late for the start time of work is not allowed and is considered equal to no-show.
