

Questions for testing in the discipline “Medical Psychology” (2023/2024)

1. Anxiety as a psychological phenomenon. Anxiety disorders. Helping strategies.
2. Internal picture of the disease. Types of personality reactions to illness. Psychological defense
3. Psychological characteristics of patients suffering from mental and somatic disorders.
4. Mechanisms of neurogenesis (situational, personal factors, age-related and gender reactivity).
5. Epidemiology and reasons for suicidal behavior. Prevention of suicides.
  6. Assessment of the risk of suicidal and socially dangerous behavior of patients. Crisis intervention. Prevention of suicides.
7. Personality features of adolescents prone to substance abuse. Psychological mechanisms of alcohol addiction in adolescents. Signs of prodrome (pre-illness) of alcohol addiction.
8. Obsessive-compulsive syndrome (obsessive-compulsive syndrome).
9. Obsessive experiences (obsessions, compulsions, phobias).
10. Personal harmony and disharmony.
11. Accentuations.
12. Deviant behavior.
13. Disorders of mature personality and behavior in adults. General diagnostic criteria. Anancastic (obsessive-compulsive), anxious (avoidant), dissocial, emotionally unstable (impulsive and borderline types).
14. Reaction to severe stress and adaptation disorders.
15. Mental disorders in crisis situations (natural disasters, catastrophes). Post-traumatic stress disorder
16. Reaction of grief. Normal and pathological grief. Diagnostics and principles of medical care.
17. Neurasthenia.
18. Dissociative (conversion) disorders.
19. Obsessive-compulsive disorder.
20. Anxiety and phobic disorders. The concept of agoraphobia. Simple phobia, social phobia, panic disorder.

Head of Psychiatry and Medical
Psychology department

O.A.Skugarevsky

29.08.2023